Purpose This script gives brothers a clear, repeatable structure for honest conversations - especially when things are busy, messy, or tense. It is not a performance. It is simply a framework to protect truth, honour and brotherhood .

You can use it: - For weekly or monthly check-ins - Before or after a major decision - When there has been tension, distance or silence {/ stripped:

duplicate frontmatter block /} Step 2 - Reality Check 5-10 minutes each Goal: say clearly where you really are - no spin, no pretending. Use this simple template:

1. State your headline: - _ "Headline: I feel stretched and close to burnout." _ - _ "Headline: I am excited about this new opportunity but unsure if it's wise." _

2. Name your top 3 realities: - _ "Financially..." _ - _ "Emotionally..." _ - _ "Spiritually..." _

3. Identify any pressure points: - _ "The biggest pressure right now is..." _ - _ "What keeps me awake at night is..." _

No one interrupts. No fixing yet. Just listening to understand. {/ stripped:

duplicate frontmatter block /} Step 4 - Decisions & Commitments 5-10 minutes

Goal: leave with clear next steps - not just good feelings. Each brother answers:

- 1. What am I deciding? - _ "I will speak to my wife about this by Friday." _ - _ "I will say no to this deal, even though it looks lucrative." _

- 2. What will I do in the next 7 days? - _ "I will send you an update message by Wednesday evening." _

- 3. What support do I need from you? - _ "I need you to challenge me if I start to drift from this decision." _ - _ "Please ask me specifically about my thought life next week." _

Agree one concrete follow-up date . {/ stripped:

duplicate frontmatter block /} Step 6 - Follow-Up Rhythm To keep this script alive:

- Use it weekly for crisis seasons , monthly for normal seasons .

- Keep a simple log: date, headline, decisions.

- Review: _ "What have we kept? Where have we drifted? What needs repairing?" _

This is how brotherhood moves from good intentions to disciplined loyalty .
